ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Green Valley as an organization that develops infrastructure and services, promotes an Environmentally Friendly Culture together with its collaborators and stakeholders.

As one of its fundamental purposes and being one of its Corporate Philosophies and core business value: the Sustainability, Green Valley assumes from its highest levels of Corporate Governance the responsibility to respect, protect, preserve the environment, its biodiversity and ecosystems in a structured and coherent way to mitigate the climate change.

Preserve the environment and reduce environmental impacts as part of our daily work promoting professionally and / or scientifically, friendly practices with the environment.

Comply with environmental legislation and other environmental legal requirements that our organization subscribes or that is legally responsible to accomplish, continuously and systematically encouraging this compliance on the side of our stakeholders.

Strive for continuous improvement of our processes, services and activities with the established purpose of promoting an appropriate platform to our clients for their production activities in a balanced development environment.

Establish environmental protection objectives and goals, developing regular reviews to evaluate our performance by controlling environmental risks that may arise from the different activities carried out in the park, always looking for the reduction or minimization of negative environmental impacts, in water, air, soil and environment in general.

Promote the awareness, trainings and information to our staff of collaborators, clients, suppliers and other partners, of the principles included in this Environmental Policy, as well as all our sustainability goals (2030-2050).

Present and develop strategies to reduce atmospheric emissions and establish measurement parameters and indicators that allow compliance with the objectives set in this direction, promoting efficient solutions and using the most respectful technologies with the environment.

The Management is committed so that this Environmental Policy is understood and assumed by its collaborators making it available to stakeholders. It also undertakes to ensure its application and to periodically review its content, adapting it to the nature of its activities and the environmental impacts that may occur, as well as the general strategy of the company.
